Train Plunges Off New Jersey Trestle—Scores Hurt

Worst Disaster In History Of N.J. Railroads

Train In Wreck Carried Nearly 1000 Passengers

(BULLETIN)

WOODBRIDGE, N. J., Feb. 7. (INS)—Eight investigations, including a probe by the FBI of possible sabotage, were opened today into the wreck of the Pennsylvania Railroad's plush commuter express, "The Broker," which killed at least 79 and possible 81 persons. More than 500 persons were injured when the crowded 11-car train plunged off a temporary trestle and down an embankment into a Woodbridge street shortly after 5:30 o'clock last night, and the death toll is expected to rise.

WOODBRIDGE, N. J., Feb. 7.—A ghastly death toll of at least 77 and more likely 85 was counted today in the wreck of the Pennsylvania Railroad's plush commuter train, "The Broker," which plunged off a temporary trestle and down a steep embankment at Woodbridge last night.

The disaster—worst in the history of New Jersey railroading—occurred at a moment when a wildcat railway strike which had paralyzed the nation was ending in most areas of the country.

At Newark, N.J., FBI Agent-in-Charge Sam McKee said his office is "making inquiries" at the scene to determine if any sabotage was involved in the wreck. He declined further comment but indicated that the FBI inquiry was routine and not prompted by an particular circumstances.

More Than 600 Injured

More than 600 persons in the rush hour-crowded train—nicknamed "Billion Dollar Special," named for the many Wall Street men who use it regularly for travel from New York to suburban areas on the New Jersey shore—were injured.

All hospitals within a radius of 25 miles from the streets of Woodbridge were crowded with victims. The toll of dead seemed certain to exceed that of the Long Island railroad wreck at Richmond Hill, N.Y., last Thanksgiving eve. In that disaster, when a train rammed into the rear of a stalled commuter express, 79 persons were killed.

Charges of "absolute negligence" were voiced while cold and weary rescue workers still gazed into the twisted, blackened wreckage of the 11-car train.

More Bodies Sighted

Seventy-seven bodies had been counted when daylight broke and an additional eight were reported sighted in the fused third coach of the commuter express.

A state investigation was convened in the Woodbridge city hall this morning, attended by New Jersey Attorney General Theodore

U. S. Troops 6 Miles From Seoul

Armored Drive Makes Progress In Seoul Area

Advances Are Made In Other Sectors Of Korean Front

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Feb. 7.—A three-way American armored drive into a new Chinese defense line adjoining Seoul's outskirts smashed today to within six miles of the Communist-held South Korean capital.

The tank-led American columns paced fresh United Nations gains ranging up to more than a mile in the 14th day of a sustained offensive officially estimated to have knocked out nearly 46,000 Chinese and North Korean troops.

Ram Closer to Seoul

Three powerful U. S. Eighth Army task forces of tanks and infantry, supported by massive artillery, air and naval bombardments, rammed closer toward Seoul from the southeast, south and southwest. They hit a mountain line to which the Red invaders had withdrawn.

Approaching the capital from the southeast, Task Force Fisher "rumbled north to a point seven miles from Seoul and only four miles from the city's Han river

Says Maj. Gen. Dean May Still Be Alive

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. John H. Church, former commander of the U.S. 24th Division in Korea, said today there is a "good chance" that Maj. Gen. William F. Dean is still alive.

Dean, who preceded Church as commander of the 24th, has been listed officially as missing in action since the early days of the Korean war when United Nations forces were being driven back to the Pusan beachhead.

Since that time, there have been frequent unconfirmed reports that Dean may still be alive in enemy hands.

Church expressed his belief upon returning to the U.S. to command the infantry school at Ft. Benning, Ga., but added "what condition he is in I don't know."

P.R.R. Conducts Investigation Of Rail Wreck

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Railroad is conducting a full investigation today into the disastrous suburban train wreck at Woodbridge, N. J., which cost at least 77 lives.

Joseph H. Fitzsimmons, engineer of the crashed train and a PRR veteran, said he hit the trestle at about 25 miles an hour and said his speed could not be to blame.

Injured in the accident, Fitzsimmons said from his hospital bed that the overcrowded coaches and the temporary trestle may have contributed to the disaster.

Big Four Parley In Near Future Is Not Likely

Russia's Latest Note Viewed As Effort To Split Allies

By GEORGE DURNO

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Hope for a big four meeting of foreign ministers to solve East-West tensions faded into the remote future today in light of Russia's latest note to the U. S., Britain and France.

Secretary of State Acheson probably will explain why Moscow's formula falls short at his weekly news conference today.

Making Propaganda

Officials frankly doubted that Moscow really wants another meeting of the foreign ministers. It is their view that the Kremlin is merely making propaganda and trying to split the western big three on the issue of German rearmament.

There will be another exchange

Britain Near Crucial Test Of Socialism

LONDON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Prime Minister Attlee goes before the House of Commons today for a crucial test of British socialism—a vote of confidence on nationalization of iron and steel.

Parliamentary circles expressed belief that the government, despite its slim majority of seven votes over combined opposition members, will defeat narrowly a motion of censure to be presented by conservative leader Winston Churchill.

The government's position is especially shaky, however, because of the fact that the nine Liberal members of the house have decided to support the Tories in opposing steel nationalization, scheduled to go into effect on February 15.

Political observers predict that Attlee will scrape by with a majority of three or four votes.

Price Stabilization District Offices Are Being Planned

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Price Director Disalle has disclosed that his agency plans to have 71 district price stabilization offices operating throughout the country by the end of next month.

Disalle now has 42 district offices and 14 regional offices in operation and said he plans to open another 29 by the end of next month.

The new offices include 21 slated to be opened on or about February 19. They include: Trenton, N. J.; Erie, Pa.; Toledo, O.; Columbus, O.

Other district offices will be opened on or about March 5, including Camden, N. J.

County Draftees Examined Tuesday

Fifty-one men from Local Board 88, who reside in the section outside New Castle in Lawrence County, were sent to Pittsburgh Tuesday morning, for their pre-induction physical examinations.

City men will be sent to Pittsburgh for their pre-induction physicals later.

Gov. Driscoll Says Probe To Be Thorough

Pledges Thorough Investigation Of New Jersey Wreck

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 7.—(INS)

Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll pledged today a thorough state investigation of the commuter train disaster at Woodbridge, worst in New Jersey's history.

The governor said preliminary reports indicated the temporary trestle from which the train plunged did not collapse and evidently was not the direct cause of the tragedy.

He added, however, that his reports on the wreck were fragmentary. He stayed up until 3 a. m., at his home in Haddonfield receiving reports on the tragedy.

I.C.C. Orders Wreck Probe

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered an investigation into the Pennsylvania railroad wreck in New Jersey which claimed at least 77 and possibly 85 lives.

The ICC sent its investigators to Woodbridge, N. J., scene of the tragedy where the commuter train jammed with passengers jumped the tracks and tumbled down a steep embankment.

ICC hearings on the accident will start in New York City tomorrow at 2 p. m. EST. The ICC hopes to determine the possible cause of the wreck.

Wreck Victims Lose Personal Property

WOODBRIDGE, N. J., Feb. 7.—(INS)—A room in the Woodbridge City Hall bearing a hastily printed sign reading "Lost Property" pointed out the toll of last night's Pennsylvania Railroad wreck.

There, awaiting claim by relatives were: Nearly 200 hats, about 150 overcoats, 30 to 40 wallets and 25 brief cases. There also were a few women's handbags.

KILLED BY BUS

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Francis McCarrick, 61, of Media, Pa., chief inspector for a naval architect engaged in building three modern ferries for Staten Island service, was struck and killed by a bus on the island last night.

Retroactive Higher Income Taxes Facing Rejection

By RAYMOND WILCOVE

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The house ways and means committee is expected to reject President Truman's request that higher individual income taxes be made retroactive to Jan. 1.

Rep. Combs (D) Tex., an influential member of the tax-drafting group, said today he does not see how the committee could accept the White House proposal.

The Texan said it would seriously dislocate the withholding system by which employers make deductions from workers pay checks.

Treasury Secretary Snyder testified Monday that the withholding tax would have to be "adjusted" and higher rates would have to be imposed over and above the increases recommended by the administration to make up for the lag in enactment of the new tax measure.

Snyder assumed that it would take some months before any legislation can become law in view of the complexity of the problem facing congress in obtaining the

U.N. Forces May Drive North Of 38th Parallel

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. John H. Church, former commander of the U. S. 24th Division in Korea, said today "there is a possibility" that United Nations forces will drive north of the 38th parallel.

Church, returned to the U. S. to command the infantry school at Ft. Benning, Ga., told newsmen that he considers it virtually impossible for any Chinese Communist force to drive UN troops off the Korean peninsula.

The general said any decision to advance beyond the 38th parallel which divides North and South Korea must be made on the highest level of the United Nations, but he added:

"We are inflicting casualties on the Chinese in a ratio of about ten to one and advancing all the time on the western side of Korea."

Church also said he believes there is a "good chance" that Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, missing in action since an early phase of the Korean war, is still alive. However, Church added: "What condition he is in I don't know."

HIKE COAL PRICE

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Feb. 7.—(INS)—Coal at the tippie will cost $8.70 per ton today because members of the Greater Johnstown Coal Producers association hiked the price 55c per ton.

The association claimed a recent wage raise to coal miners necessitated the boost.

Rail Service Is Near Normal In Eastern Areas

Strike, However, Is Still Clogging Freight At Chicago

By PHILLIPS J. PECK

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Rail service is near normal in the east today and federal mediators resume their efforts to end the strike which is still clogging freight yards at Chicago and other midwestern railroad centers with vital war goods.

The back-to-work movement of trainmen on eastern lines produced a rash of optimistic statements in Capitol Hill and in labor circles predicting that the stoppage will clear up completely soon.

But the White House, which earlier made an appeal through Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson for an end to the walk-out in the national interest, was non-committal.

And the three-man national (railway) mediation board scheduled another meeting today with heads of the four operating brotherhoods.

GNCA Campaign Workers In All-Out Drive For Goal

Workers in the Greater New Castle Association campaign "dug in" today in an all-out effort to bring to a victorious conclusion the association's $40,000 expansion and membership drive.

With a break in the weather that has been plaguing workers since the start of solicitation several weeks ago, it is expected that there will be a record turnout and the largest report of the campaign Thursday night when workers in all divisions will meet at the United Engineering company cafeteria for the third report meeting of the campaign.

The meeting will start at 7:30 o'clock and the GNCA group will be the guests of the United Engineering management. A buffet lunch will be served, courtesy of the United Engineering company. Workers are asked to come to the main gate on George street where guards will guide them to the cafeteria building.

Special Bulletins

Special bulletins have been sent to the volunteer workers urging them to make every effort to see all their prospects and complete their work by Thursday night.

"The future of the Greater New Castle Association and what it may do to help make New Castle a better community in which to live depends largely upon the outcome of this campaign."

The ground hog must have missed his call, or else his shadow he could see, or maybe he just doesn't care what weather there is going to be. The streets are slush, the sky is dark, there's ice and snow where e'er you step, a certain sign it seems to me, that groundhog creature isn't happy or maybe he just can't help it. Some day a month or so from now the sun will shine his very best, it's dark and 27 today.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Another one of those all kind of weather days is being experienced today. Folks who went to bed late last night, found it raining. This morning, when they woke up, it was snowing, and the weather forecaster promises a severe drop in the temperature tonight with more snow.

City street scraper was employed on Highland avenue Tuesday, in order to loosen the large accumulation of snow.

barrier. This was announced by the Eighth Army at 8 Wednesday night (6 a.m. EST).

International News Service War Correspondent Frank Conniff reported direct from South Korea's west sector that this column had reached within six miles southeast of Seoul. His dispatch covered later battle developments.

In the mountainous center of the Korean peninsula, the Eighth Army said, UN troops advanced 2,000 to 3,000 yards against "light opposition" in a northwesterly drive beyond Hoengsong that threatened to swing around Seoul's inland flank.

GOV. DRISCOLL SAYS PROBE TO BE THOROUGH

ity Commissioners, headed by John Boswell, needs additional power to conduct the investigation and recommend remedies to prevent a recurrence, Governor Driscoll said, he will delegate that power to the board under present laws.

First Concern

"All during the night our first concern was with those who were injured and the notification of families of those injured and dead," said the governor.

"While the work was going on, however, I conferred over the telephone with Attorney General Theodore D. Parsons, president of the Utility Board, and Paul Troast, president of the New Jersey Turnpike authority, as well as Brigadier General Donald W. McGowan, of the National Guard.

"I directed the attorney general, in cooperation with the other persons mentioned, to proceed immediately following completion of rescue work to conduct a thorough investigation as to the causes of one of New Jersey's worst tragedies."

Gov. Driscoll disclosed that following the Long Island railroad train wreck last Thanksgiving eve, in which 79 persons died, Boswell and he conferred and agreed that every railroad operating in New Jersey should be required to state under oath there was full compliance with all Interstate Commerce Commission and State safety rules. Boswell had started work on the proposal, the governor said, when last night's wreck occurred.

RAIL SERVICE NEAR NORMAL IN EAST

erhous after calling off a Tuesday night session without explanation.

Mail Embargo Remains

Easing of the situation along the eastern seaboard brought a partial lifting of the embargo imposed by the Railway Express agency. However, the government's mail embargo, and freight restrictions applied by the railroads remain in effect.

For the most part the nine-day-old strike was ended in such cities as Washington, Philadelphia and New York. And there were indications that the men are going back to work elsewhere, including the Midwest and at Chicago, an army spokesman reported that switchmen of the Burlington line reported 100 percent to their posts—the first important "break" in the stoppage at the nation's largest rail hub.

Reporting Back

Union Pacific headquarters at Omaha said that switching crews showed up at Kansas City, Salt Lake City, Las Vegas and Los Angeles.

Birmingham, Ala., reported the men back at work on four major lines, leaving only the Southern railway partially affected by the strike.

A Pennsylvania railroad spokesman said in New York that so far as that line is concerned the strike is "to all intents and practical purposes over."

Other than the basic problem of working out a new agreement in the Washington talks, a complete end to the walk-out would leave another matter hanging fire—that of contempt proceedings brought by the government against heads of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen now under way at Chicago.

All of these matters stem from a long-standing dispute in which the unions' chief demand is a reduction of the work week from 48 to 40 hours with no cut in pay.

Caused Lay-Offs

The current stoppage, preceded by a brief pre-Christmas strike, in industries dependent upon the railroads, the strike also brought fuel shortages in some places since the railroads are the principal carriers of coal and threatened to produce critical food shortages in some cities.

The mediation board is trying to arrange a settlement on the basis of some changes in railroad working rules. The carriers are adamant on wage provisions proposed by the White House last December—a 24-cent hourly increase for yardmen and 10 cents for roadmen, plus cost-of-living increases for both groups.

come of this campaign," the bulletins state.

"All who have taken prospect cards and are a part of this campaign have accepted a definite responsibility—a responsibility to do something for the improvement of our community. New Castle's reputation as a place where 'things get done' is at stake in this project."

"We can reach this $40,000 goal if everyone works and if we all hit that goal at Thursday night's report meeting."

Richard E. Rentz, general chairman of the campaign, commented today that latest reports of subscriptions were encouraging. He said:

"In the past few days a number of subscribers in industry and business have increased previous commitments to the fund. In one case a subscriber voluntarily called upon a worker and said that he felt that he had not subscribed enough and made an additional contribution. This is good news. If this trend continues and if all workers who have unreported cards complete their calls and list on maximum, 'fair share' amounts the campaign will be successful."

10 billion dollars in additional revenue requested by the administration.

Will Not Go along

Combs said he did not think the committee will go along with Snyder's recommendation, and other members privately agreed. Expectations are that increased individual taxes will go into effect the first of the month following enactment, which may not be until July 1.

Corporation tax boosts could be made retroactive, however, more easily because 1951 taxes will not be payable until the following year.

The president requested increases of four billion dollars in individual income taxes, and three billions each in corporation and excise levies in a "first installment" bill with another 6.5 billions in new revenue to be furnished later.

This is designed to erase an estimated 16.5 billion dollar deficit for the 1952 fiscal year which begins July 1 and put the government's gigantic defense program on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The committee recessed until Thursday after hearing Snyder and internal revenue commissioner Schoeneman. Budget director Lawton will be the next witness.

MADRID STOCKS

MADRID—(INS)—A total of 3,097,000,000 pesetas worth of business was negotiated in the Madrid stock exchange between 1950, according to an official announcement. The total for 1949 was reported at 2,891,000,000 pesetas.

BIG FOUR PARLEY IN NEAR FUTURE UNLIKELY of notes because this time Moscow asked for "clarification" of the western position.

The U. S., Britain and France unquestionably will clarify what they consider basic issues between the iron curtain and the free world on a basis wholly unacceptable to the Kremlin.

The United States certainly will insist that the agenda of any big four conference include the following items, in addition to German issues:

Agenda Insisted Upon

1. The writing of an Austrian peace treaty which the Soviets have been stalling for many months.

2. The Korean war.
3. The Indo-China war where Viet Nam and French troops are fighting Communist guerrillas.

4. The situation in the Balkans where the satellite states of Hungary, Bulgaria and Rumania have massed large bodies of troops on Yugoslavia's border.

The Soviet demand that western Germany be the first topic on an otherwise unformed agenda left the situation pretty much the way it has been for the past three months.

Makes Savage Attack

Washington did not overlook the fact that at about the time Moscow was delivering its note, the USSR was unleashing a savage attack on the United States as "an unbridled aggressor" in Korea.

The Russians attacked over their radio and with a patently propaganda move at Lake Success where the United Nations already has voted Red China the aggressor by a vote of 44 to 7.

U. S. ambassadors to all of the European countries, including Russia and west Germany, now meeting in Frankfurt have advised the State Department that Russia's latest note offers little for negotiation.

Similarly, U. S. British, and French ambassadors, who have been meeting on the subject for a week, have reported the same thing.

For the past three years, Plaingrove has not been operating a high school, Plaingrove high school students having been transported to Grove City, where they have been attending classes on a tuition basis. This action was taken when the number of pupils attending high school dropped off to the point that it was not considered economical to operate a high school.

Under the new setup, better educational facilities will be provided.

EDISON'S BIRTHDAY

The 104th anniversary of the birth of Thomas A. Edison on February 11 will pass unobserved and generally unnoticed, and it is strange that this should be so. Edison was one of the greatest of his time—and he constructed many foundations on which others have continued to build.

Edison invented, or brought to practicability, the electric light, the motion picture, the phonograph, the electric storage battery, and had to his credit scores of other inventions, many of which are commonly accepted conveniences of today.

It is strange that the nation fails to honor the man who contributed so greatly to modern living. Continued neglect of his memory by his countrymen cannot be explained on any rational ground. Presidents and governors issue proclamations calling attention to the birth date of figures less worthy of remembrance.

Edison's was a typically American success story. Reared in poverty, he left school after a few years and started to make his own way at a tender age. But his education, though self-acquired, was all inclusive and not confined to mechanics. His perseverance was unmatched in an era when long hours of application to the task at hand was the rule.

Thomas A. Edison occupies a niche in American history among the truly great.

AIR FORCE'S PLANS FOR FUTURE

Secretary of the Air Force Thomas H. Finletter is disclosing some of the Air Force's plans for the future, including a change-over in the Strategic Bombing Command.

Finletter says a speed-up in defense aircraft production may mean that the giant Boeing B-52 will fly this year yet. The all-jet bomber will supplant the B-36 in its inter-continental atomic bombing task.

The air arm is attempting to develop an escort fighter to protect atomic bombers on their long-range bombing missions, possibly by refueling in the air.

On the whole, however, Finletter feels that events in Korea do not warrant any change in the type of planes to be ordered. He says American jets are "holding their own" against a "very good" Russian MIG-15.

MAY BE IN FOR SHOCK

Our Western European Allies, who expect the United States to provide many divisions of armed forces to hold off the Communist threat while they leisurely prepare their defenses are in for a rude shock.

They are about to learn that talk is cheap and that anyone can put figures down on paper—but it is going to take the combined and determined effort of all the Allies to build up more than a mock army in Europe. The United States cannot do it alone.

On the other side of Europe's Iron Curtain, it is estimated are at least 100 Red divisions ready for a frontal assault upon word from the Kremlin.

The United States has in being today, ready for action, a total of less than 15 divisions—including the troops in Korea! Additionally, there are six National Guard divisions readying themselves for action.

TO STUDY THE 'WONDER DRUGS'

Grant by the Federal Security Administration of $2,000,000 to research organizations in 17 states for investigation into the effects of ACTH and cortisone on disease should do a great deal to remove some of the critical mysteries surrounding these remarkable drugs.

There can't be much doubt any more that both elements have tremendous potentialities. The inter-relationship between polio susceptibility and an oversupply of cortisone is just one hint, recently brought to light. The hormones, product of the adrenal glands, may control resistance to many diseases besides polio. But the amazing results already obtained in relieving the symptoms of various forms of arthritis are enough to warrant study on a broader scale.

Rheumatic fever is the number one killer of children of grammar school age. It would certainly be worth $500,000, which has been allotted from the overall sum, to bring this one malady under control. But the grants will support studies of asthma, ulcerative colitis, rheumatoid arthritis, leukemia, goiter, congestive heart failure and whooping cough. The various hormone products of the adrenal glands may play a significant role in any of these.

Before this many be established in any specific instance, however, a vast screening program is necessary. The federal grants, along with funds from universities, foundations and pharmaceutical houses, must go a long way. The relief promised by the new drugs warrants all the public support that may be obtained.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Flu Epidemic May Be Factor

The inroads of an influenza epidemic on the people of Great Britain may play a leading role today when the government of Prime Minister Attlee faces a major test on the nationalization of steel.

Prime Minister Attlee's plan to place 92 British coal and steel companies under control of the Labor government will be debated vigorously, with Winston Churchill in the forefront of a last-ditch movement to save the industry as a free enterprise.

To Ask Vote of Confidence
When debate has ended, Attlee will ask for a vote of confidence. Whether or not he gets it may depend to a large measure upon how many Laborite, Conservative and Liberal members of the House of Commons are laid up by illness.

If the government is defeated, most parliamentary experts believe that Attlee will be forced to ask King George to dissolve Parliament and order new general elections.

The vote on steel unquestionably will mark the crucial point in the history of Britain's Labor government.

Steel is the backbone of all British industry. With the railroads and air lines under government control, steel stands out as virtually a landmark of free private business in an almost completely socialized country.

Determined To Take Over
But Attlee and his government are determined to take over all the huge enterprises which have made British iron and steel known throughout the world.

They have rejected all criticism—including that of Churchill—as groundless and reactionary.

Under present plans, the industry is scheduled to come under government control on February 15.

A federal iron and steel board already has been created and its members are ready to step in on that date if Attlee is sustained when the House casts its vote.

Much depends upon sickness and health for while the government has a majority of six over all opposition parties, many members are down with flu and Attlee's whips can not be actually certain of turning up the required number.

Position Complicated
The position is complicated by the fact that the nine Liberal members of parliament who have an unusual type of balance of power, have stood firm in the past in support of Conservative opposition to steel nationalization.

If the liberals vote against the government as anticipated, Attlee might very well be compelled to step down from office.

Churchill plans the following strategy:
First, he will ask the government to postpone the February 15 date of steel control.

If Attlee refuses, as is expected, Churchill then will introduce a resolution to the effect that the nationalization of steel and iron, especially in view of defense rearmament requirements, is not in the national interest.

Enmeshed in Difficulties
The steel vote comes at a time when the British government is enmeshed in difficulties.

It has a dock strike on its hands which, like the railway walkout in the United States, is disrupting shipment of public necessities as well as arms and ammunition for British and United Nations troops in Korea.

If it survives the steel nationalization crisis, it faces another parliamentary test on its handling of the meat situation. Criticism has run high and bitter since the latest reduction in an already pitifully small ration.

Then there is the question of Korea and Communist China. It was with greatest reluctance that Britain supported the United States in U. N. condemnation of Red China as an aggressor. Many Britons feel they are now in the line of fire where imposition of sanctions on the Peiping regime is inevitable.

And these circles further believe this will mean an expanding war fraught with danger for the entire world and particularly for British investments in the far east.

Attlee, who does not like the limelight, is squarely in the middle of it and his political future once again is in the balance.

They Say

WASHINGTON — Defense Mobilization — "This is a time when the rail workers and all the rest of us have got to stay on the job because the very survival of our country is at stake."

WASHINGTON — Sen. Taft (R) Ohio — "It is because the American worker is, first of all, an American that here we need not fear communism and socialism, whose whole appeal is based on the European idea of class distinction."

TOLEDO, O. — Price Chief Di Salle — "We know it takes two to make a black market—the buyer as well as the seller—and this time we're going after both."

WASHINGTON — Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff — "We have a project which will ultimately result in the delivery of atomic fissionable materials from an artillery piece."

State Police Say:

It is a common practice of many motorists to park illegally. NO PARKING zones are established on the basis of necessity, and parking your car where prohibited is not only unlawful but very dangerous, as an improperly parked vehicle can obstruct the view at an intersection, prevent the use of a fire hydrant, or obscure a STOP sign. Never park within 25 feet of an intersection, 15 feet of a fire hydrant, or within 30 feet of a STOP sign.

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

What's Next Step Against China?

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—From the facts he reported were the following:

Seek To Involve U. S.
The Nationalist leaders are determined to involve the United States in a full-scale war with the Communists on the mainland.

The Nationalist troops are under-trained and woefully under-equipped. Many are without shoes and proper clothing. They train with wooden rifles. They are, therefore, far from ready for any combat action.

Chiang Kai-shek through his son, Chiang Ching-Kuo, exercises rigid political "thought control" in the Nationalist army, with officers given preferment on a basis of politics rather than military capacity. This has alienated General Sun Li-jen, who was trained in America and is perhaps the ablest military man on Formosa.

How much it would cost the U. S. to re-equip the Nationalist armies and support a Nationalist attempt to invade the mainland is a matter of disagreement among the American military advisers employed by Chiang on Formosa, according to Potter. Rear Admiral Charles M. Cooke, retired commander of the U. S. 7th Fleet, who has been in Formosa since February as head of commerce international supplies for the Nationalists, puts the figure at $250,000,000. But Potter quotes an unnamed Marine Corps commander in Washington as estimating the cost of making effective soldiers out of Chiang's 500,000 troops at a much higher figure. He quotes this general as saying:

Need U. S. Assistance
"There is no possibility of a mainland invasion unless we (the United States) give 100 per cent assistance logistically, as well as air cover and naval transport."

Logical Next Step
This is a logical next step for those who have been determined all along that the United States should direct the rescue of the Chinese people from the Communist masters who now exercise a complete tyranny over them. And the ardent believers in Chiang, such as Judd and Senator William Knowland of California, have always regarded him as the chief instrument of that rescue.

But if the rescue operation is to be undertaken, it is time the American people understand what the cost of it is likely to be in terms of the resources which are said to be available. In this connection a series of articles by Philip Potter in the Baltimore Sun should be required reading. Potter, who has had considerable experience in the Far East, wrote his articles after a tour of Formosa.

They are the kind of straight and thorough reporting that in this age of propaganda strikes a most refreshing and novel note. As a reporter, Potter went to Formosa to try to get the facts rather than to prove any preconception for or against the Nationalists. Among

Should Be No Sale

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—Arthur Miller's great play "Death of a Salesman" is now running at the New Gayety Theatre here—and a similar drama about salesmanship is running on Capitol Hill.

Mr. Miller's hero, Willy Loman, is not only a salesman of goods—he's a hawk of his own "popularity." Willy believes, poor devil, that the secret of a successful life is being "liked" by other people. This is an over-simplification of a profound human study, but a good part of Willy's tragedy lies in that immature, shallow and self-centered philosophy.

Well, I was thinking about Willy's pathetic decline and fall the other day when I returned from interviewing a Senator who shall be nameless for the moment. He is one of the clique who believe in "selling" America to the world. It is definitely not too much of an over-simplification to say that this clique look upon foreign policy as a global popularity contest. Everything's going to be all right, they believe, if only we can persuade the world to "like" America.

Willy Would Agree To That
Willy Loman, I'm sure, would agree with that. If Willy were a Senator and if he were articulate enough to mouth the familiar phrases, he'd be using the same language I heard in my interview. America must win the "minds and hearts of men." We must use the Voice of America and other propaganda outlets to stress the "moral intent" of our aid programs. The world must be made to know that there is "good will" behind our good works.

All this sounds so lofty and beneficent that we seldom stop to examine the jargon, as Arthur Miller stopped to examine Willy Loman. Does our quest for popularity arise from a spirit of strength? No, this philosophy of friend-making by propaganda is a confession of weakness. It has its roots in a strange inferiority complex. It is the blubbing of an introvert who cries out that "nobody loves me." And maybe nobody does. People who worry about being unloved, generally are.

Should Come Unasked-For
So, no kind word should be spoken for the self-praising propaganda rubbish that builds up annually on Capitol Hill. Nothing in human experience or world history suggests that popularity is a laudable thing to seek. Any form of human affection is a gift which should come unasked-for and for free. John Keats was touching on this whole subject when he wrote:

"Fame, like a wayward girl, will still be coy,
To those who woo her with too slavish knees;
But makes surrender to some thoughtless boy,
And dotes the more upon a heart at ease."

Enough has happened in the past year to point out the defects of the "slavish knees" approach. All our billion-dollar wooing of the Marshall Plan countries did not bring them to our side at Lake Success. Only when we struck out on our own, determined to put the brand of aggressor on Red China, did we get European support. All our generous willingness to pay the bill for the galvanize West Europe into appreciative self-help. No, it took the skeptical speeches of Herbert Hoover and others to bring Attlee and Pléven winging to Washington with pledges of everlasting fealty.

Number Of Good Reasons
There are surely a number of good reasons for aiding the non-Communist world. But the hope that people will "like" us is not a good reason. Yet we hear Senator McMahon's speech in which he tries to press $50 billion worth of gratitude upon the scowling Russians. We see Senator Lehman on the speakers' panel for World Federalists, another share-the-wealth bid for global popularity. To hear some of the Administration arguments for Point Four in the affection of cannibals and Lower Slobovians. And then there are Senators Benton and Flanders who seriously suggest that we float a balloon barrage of comic books behind the Iron Curtain to extol our virtues as the Dale Carnegie of nations.

There is, I suspect, a clear and present danger in this wag-tail effort to make ourselves loved like an overgrown puppy. It hinders our growth into the maturity of hard-boiled world leadership. We had better realize that international popularity does not matter one iota. What does matter is that, being strong, we behave with strength toward friend and foe alike. This is what we have just begun to do at Lake Success and in Europe. But we have done it by forgetting to use soft persuasions and the ingratiating approach. Statesmanship at the moment is outselling salesmanship. And if we don't backslide, the popularity which we don't seek is likely to come to us, unasked.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

One of the things I'll never be able to understand is the complete ease with which women perform the most difficult household tasks. I had a little taste of it this morning.

With a lot of work ahead of me I got up early and magnanimously decided to let "the little woman" sleep.

I tip-toed down the stairs to the kitchen and started to prepare breakfast.

Only a spoonful of coffee was left in the coffee can, so I had to open a new one.

It was one of those things that is air-tight, so they have a metal band fitted all around it.

You unwind this little band with a little gadget attached to the bottom of the can.

That is, when my wife opens a can of coffee, she unwinds this band without the slightest difficulty.

But when I tried it, the darn thing got all wound up askew and finally refused to budge another inch.

So I took a pair of scissors, cut off the metal band and pulled the rest of it off with a pair of pliers. In the process the lid flew off and the ground coffee spilled all over the floor.

If I told you what I did with the spillings, and if my wife saw this, I'd certainly be in for a fine how-doyou.

Well, eventually I got the coffee going and proceeded to boil my eggs and make my toast.

Somewhat, when I am in my office, I can do several things at once and never get mixed up one. But in the kitchen!

We have one of those clocks on our stove that you set for the desired time and a bell rings when that time arrives.

So I set the clock for four minutes (that is the way I like my eggs) and put some bread in the toaster.

The coffee had boiled over, was running all over the pot, carrying a lot of grounds with it and flowing into the burner part where it would be nice and difficult to get out.

I rushed over and turned it off. In the meantime the bell had rung. But I was too busy with the coffee to bother about the eggs.

Then came smoke out of the toaster. I don't know why. Smoke never comes out of the toaster when my wife makes toast.

I rushed over there and found a piece of charcoal where I had expected toast.

Next, to the eggs. Did you ever know that four-minute eggs can be hard-boiled?

As I was sitting at the table munching at my charcoal, my wife came down and saw the mess.

She softly patted my head and whispered: "Never mind, poor boy, I'll fix you up."

But I think I saw a little bit of a triumphant sneer in her eyes. (Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Russia Appears Willing To Discuss East-West Issues

By THOMAS C. WATSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Russia expressed willingness Tuesday to take up other east-west issues in addition to Germany at the proposed big four conference.

It was learned, however, this does not automatically mean a big four parley of foreign ministers is certain.

Russia, in replying to western power notes of January 23, asked for further clarification of just what global issues the United States, Britain and France want to talk about.

The reply, while keeping the door open for a big four meeting, left it up to the west to make the next move on a proposed agenda. Washington, London and Paris would like to tackle some of the burning Far East issues if there should be a big four parley.

Russia was understood to have declared in its reply that it is not opposed to a preliminary meeting of big four deputies in Paris to consider an agenda for the full-scale parley later, as proposed by the western powers.

Under Old Potsdam Agreement Moscow also is believed to have taken the position that the re-arming of western Germany is of paramount importance, and that the projected parley should be set up under the terms of the old Potsdam agreement.

Russia was believed to have expressed a desire to get moving on the big four conference plans, if only in the hopes of halting the "rearmament" of western Germany for its share in the defense of western Europe.

Moscow's concern over the rearmament program in the western nations was also understood to have been voiced in the reply. It was believed that Moscow renewed its propaganda barrage against the west in its reply, with charges that the west's expressed desire for peace did not jibe with rearmament preparations. The west also was accused of violating occupation agreements in Germany.

The Soviet reply was handed to western representatives in Moscow yesterday.

(A State Department spokesman in Washington called it a "typical Russian note."

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERR

Svenborg managed to stay on the Yale football squad all season, although he never got into a game. His only contribution consisted of acting as a tackling dummy at practice sessions, and sitting huddled up in a robe at the end of the bench during games.

The Harvard fray, however, produced so many minor injuries that, near the end of the final quarter, the coach had poured every member of the squad but Svenborg into the line-up. Time was called while still another Yale stalwart was carried off the field. The coach's eyes traveled along the empty bench until they encountered Svenborg. A wild hope surged through Svenborg's veins. "Gee, coach," he marveled, "Are you gonna send me in?" "I should say not," snapped the coach. "Just get up. I'm gonna send in the bench!"

An old Chinese proverb reminds you that you cannot prevent the birds of sorrow from flying over your head, but you can prevent them from building nests in your hair.

Eagles Take Part In Novel Birthday Party Last Night

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's 200,000 members of the Fraternal Order of the Eagles joined in a novel "radio birthday party" last night to celebrate the 53rd anniversary of the founding of the organization.

Numerous speakers participated over a statewide hookup of 26 radio stations, praising the organization for its many humanitarian contributions.

Guest speakers were headed by Gov. John S. Fine, prominent in the organization for many years, who called upon Americans to stand together to meet "the economic, military and spiritual challenge posed by Communist Imperialism."

Also heard on the program were Pittsburgh's Mayor David L. Lawrence; and Democratic State Chairman Maurice Splain, Jr.

In connection with the program, Eagles in 158 communities of the state held anniversary meetings.

Draft Hearings May Reopen

Controversy Over 18-Year-Olds Develops

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The Senate Preparedness subcommittee may re-open its draft hearings Thursday to settle a controversy between the National Guard and the Defense Department involving 18-year-olds.

The National Guard has asked Congress to continue a provision of the present law which would exempt youths of 18 to 18½ years of age from the draft if they enroll in the Guard.

The Defense Department opposes continuation of the provision.

The Senate unit hopes that the conflict can be settled in one session with both sides present. The hearing may be behind closed doors.

Rep. Towse (R) N. J., a member of the House Armed Services committee, has asked that unit to probe the Defense-National Guard controversy. Towse said he was under the impression the Guard and the Reserves are holding draft-eligible men.

Meanwhile, Sen. Morse (R) Ore., a member of the Senate subcommittee considering the draft-Universal Military Training bill, disclosed he wants to ask the Defense Department about the cost of maintaining a man in the armed services.

"One of the things in the record (of hearings) which needs to be supplemented is a statement by the defense establishment that it costs in the neighborhood of $3,200 to keep a man in the armed services."

"I think the subcommittee should examine the costs because this has a direct bearing on use of manpower. Increased use of women volunteers for desk jobs and greater use of civilians would cut the cost."

that could be interpreted as in any way resembling even "limited war". This assurance was given to Premier Rene Pleven of France during his visit last week. The concept of "limited war" which was held at the time of the visit of Prime Minister Clement Attlee of Great Britain appears to have been rejected.

But while this represents the official intention at present, there is no guarantee that it will not be altered. Now that step No. 1 has been taken with the adoption of the aggressor resolution, the pressure for step No. 2 and step 3 is bound to grow. Whether this pressure can be resisted is what the apprehensive delegates in the United Nations would like to know.

BARBER SHOP SURGERY

Middle-Ages medical practice was subjected to some peculiar conditions. One of them was the fact that barbers were generally used for "blood-letting", a practice then considered beneficial. Religious orders—particularly the Benedictines—largely controlled medicine and pharmacy but were forbidden to draw blood—hence, the barber shop surgery. The familiar barber pole traces its origin back to those times . . . it represented the application of bandages and advertised the service of bleeding.

Present-day pharmacy is a specialized professional branch of a specialized field, designed to render service to exacting professional standards. That is why quality is assured when you fill drug needs here.

Annual Report For Red Cross Home Service

The Red Cross Home Service worker for 1950, through the direction of his local community unit, greatly contributed to the national Red Cross general program.

In chapters throughout the country, more than 11,600 Home Service workers, paid and volunteer, completed a winning Red Cross team.

Alex P. McCready, chairman of the Lawrence county Red Cross unit, has reported that during 1950, 2775 cases were given work service, and of this number 816 were active servicemen, 1809 veterans and 150 civilians. There were 65 given financial assistance. The rising cost in this service has been in the costs of communications. The telephone costs were $682 and increase now monthly as more men enter the service. Red Cross chapters are a vital link between the service man and his home.

Senate Republican Campaign Group Launches 1952 Drive

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The Senate Republican Campaign Committee kicked off its 1952 drive Tuesday by reappointing Victor A. Johnston as staff director and giving work assignments to its members.

The action was taken in the wake of the GOP's Lincoln day box supper rally in Washington, at which congressional leaders attacked the Truman administration and called for election of a Republican president and Congress in 1952.

Johnston was unanimously re-named to his $15,000-a-year position and Sen. Mundt (D) S. D., was elected vice-chairman of the Senate committee to serve under chairman Dirksen (R) Ill.

The eight members of the committee were assigned four states each of the 32 states in which there will be senatorial elections next year.

RUB IT OR EAT IT?

There seems to be some difference between live skin and leather. Leather is dead. Tanners know how to treat it. They soak it and rub it. They use chemicals and oils and polishes galore.

Live skin is something else yet. Skin food must go in through the mouth. Eye food and teeth food and hair food and bone food and brain food all go into the body at the same way.

Fresh air and proper exercise and good sleep and Sunday school and cleanliness all help to keep the skin in good condition.

Mechanical Chicken Feeder Demonstrated

New Castle Lions club members were given a practical demonstration of how to feed chickens automatically, when the championship F.F.A. team from North Beaver Township high school at Mt. Jackson, which won the demonstration contest held in connection with the State Farm Show early in January, put on the same exhibition for the club at their weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday noon.

Fink Gives Talk
Lion James C. Fink, who is supervisor of vocational education, for the Lawrence, Beaver, Butler county area, gave a short talk preceding the demonstration, pointing out the fact that there are 300 schools in Pennsylvania which have vocational agriculture classes, of which number, four are located in Lawrence county. These are: Union, North Beaver, and Hickory townships, and New Wilmington borough.

The members of these classes receive training in practical farming, and are members of the Future Farmers of America. Lawrence county has had a national vice-president of this organization, and the Lawrence county schools have won many honors down through the years, in competition with other F.F.A. groups.

Mr. Fink then introduced J. W. Laughner, instructor in vocational education, who in turn introduced the championship team, composed of John Kusnierczyk, Hugh Bell, Chester Herb, and Edward Semon, who told how the machine was built from various materials available in the school shop, and how it worked.

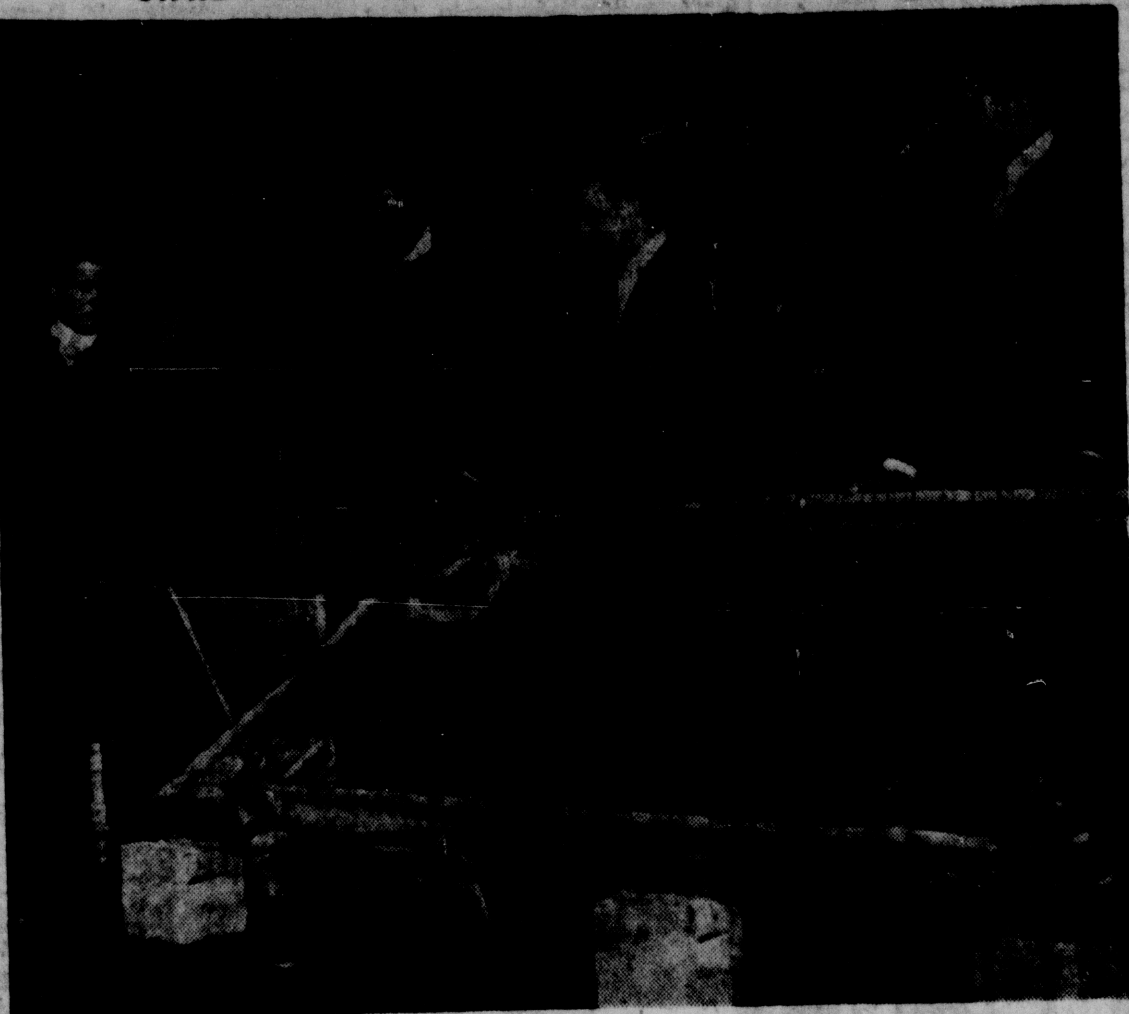

Mechanism Explained
A chain drive skirts the edge of the chicken coop, just above the floor level, which can be set to operate at desired intervals, bringing feed to a trough through which the chain operates. Wire guards are placed above the trough which the chickens can feed, but prevents them from getting inside the trough and being caught in the mechanism.

The contention is that the outfit is not only a labor saver, but that it saves feed, and also stimulates the appetite of the chickens. Statistics have been gathered showing that chickens fed in this manner laid more eggs on less food, and that broilers also reached a given weight on less feed than in the case of hand-fed chickens.

Tail Twister Charles Lumley announced that the annual Tail Twisters ball will take place on April 21. Russell B. Canan, chairman of the Green Pennant campaign, gave a report on the operation of this activity, which is now in the schools of the city and county.

ALL RASPBERRIED UP
TIPTON, Ind. — Passing motorists thought for a minute it was the bloodiest wreck of the year—an overturned white panel truck and the highway were splattered with crimson. The "blood" turned out to be fillings from 100 raspberry pies.

Two-story apartment buildings with common entrance, masonry.

General specifications for this project may be obtained from the State Planning Board. Design, construction details and planning must conform to SPB Bulletin HB-4, "Design Requirements and Construction Standards for State Housing Program".

To facilitate architectural design a deviation of not more than one unit in total number of dwelling units as indicated above may be permitted in the bid. Distribution by sizes as indicated above may be modified by the substitution of larger units for units having a lower number of bedrooms. Information as to site proposed by the bidder, as well as site plans, construction plans and specifications must be submitted to the Board not later than February 16, 1951. Approval of site, site plans, construction plans and specifications must be secured from the Board prior to the submission of a bid.

The bids shall be based upon the construction of the Project in accordance with the plans and specifications submitted to and approved by the Board.

Bids shall also be based upon operation and maintenance of the Project for a period of twenty-eight years, to be computed from the date of execution of the contract with the bidder, in accordance with the requirements established in SPB Bulletin HB-5, "Minimum Operation Standards for State Housing Program".

The maximum allocation of State funds available for the Project is $151,250.00, but the State subsidy shall not exceed 35% of the total estimated pre-occupancy cost of the Project, such estimate being submitted as part of the bid, and shall in no event exceed 35% of the actual pre-occupancy cost of the Project as finally ascertained by the Board.

The award will be made to the qualified bidder who stipulates the lowest average net rental per housing unit, which will result in the lowest gross cost of occupancy to the tenants, taking into consideration the functional and other factors of the project, construction and location, the functional and other factors of the project, construction and location, the functional and other factors of the project, construction and location.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, acting through the State Planning Board of the Department of Commerce, retains the right to accept or reject any or all bids and to waive any of its procedural requirements. The bid accepted by the Board must be ratified by the Governor before a contract can be entered into with the successful bidder.

Bids shall be submitted on SPB Form H-7, "Housing Construction and Operation Bid" or on SPB Form H-7C, "Housing Construction and Operation Bid" (Form to be used by Housing Authorities), and, when submitted by a private builder-operator, must be accompanied by bid submitted in the sum of 3% of the amount of the total estimated pre-occupancy cost, as outlined in SPB Bulletin HB-2, "Bidding and Contractual Procedures", as revised January 17, 1950. So that the Commonwealth may be assured as to the soundness of the proposed financing of the Project and the feasibility of operation under the proposed rental schedule, the successful bidder will be required to execute a contract with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, acting through the State Planning Board of the Department of Commerce, containing provisions for construction and operation of the proposed project and method of payment of the grant. (Sample contracts in blank form may be obtained from the State Planning Board.)

The successful bidder (if a private builder-operator) will, in addition, be required to form a business corporation under the laws of Pennsylvania and to furnish performance and payment bonds, on the forms provided by the Board, and in an amount equal to 10% of the estimated pre-occupancy cost of the Project, as set forth in SPB Bulletin HB-3, "Participation of Private Builder-Operators in State Housing Program", as revised January 17, 1950.

Counting Results In March Of Dimes Drive Now Ended

Results of the March of Dimes campaign, which closed Saturday, are now being tabulated by Campaign Chairman George C. Powers, Jr., and members of his committee from the Kiwanis club, which had charge of the drive in the local district.

The plastic "iron lungs" have been gathered up and the contents will be counted. Some returns are still being made on the solicitation cards which were sent out to all motor car owners, and returns on these will probably continue to trickle in for several more days. At a collection taken for the March of Dimes at the First Congregational church on Sunday, a total of $102 was received. Rev. Thomas J. Jones reported. It was the largest church collection for this purpose in the city.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... usually parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it: First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily. Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Wesley Advance Makes Progress

Evangelistic Advance in the Wesley Methodist church is continuing throughout this week with preaching services scheduled for each evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Joseph H. Fitzsimmons and Conductor John Bishop, 54. (In Trenton, Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll said at the state house that preliminary and fragmentary reports indicate the temporary trestle from which the train plunged did not collapse and evidently was not the direct cause of the tragedy. He pledged a thorough investigation of the accident.)

SERVICE INTERRUPTED
Owing to the failure of a transformer at the Vogan Street substation of the Pennsylvania Power company about 11 a. m., electric service was interrupted on the South and East Sides, and along the Ellwood City highway, south and east of the city. Substation employees installed a spare transformer to restore service. Rhode Island originally had almost as many capitals as it had towns.

WORST DISASTER IN HISTORY OF N.J. R.R.

D. Parsons and Public Utility Commissioners John E. Boswell and D. Lane Powers. Deputy Attorney General Benjamin Van Tine went to Perth Amboy General hospital where he questioned the train's engineer, Joseph H. Fitzsimmons and Conductor John Bishop, 54. (In Trenton, Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll said at the state house that preliminary and fragmentary reports indicate the temporary trestle from which the train plunged did not collapse and evidently was not the direct cause of the tragedy. He pledged a thorough investigation of the accident.)

Carried About 1,000 Persons
Scores of bankers and stockbrokers from the Wall Street area made five-day-a-week use of "The Broker" whose rear-end club car was familiar to well-to-do commuters from New York to Bay Head Junction, N. J., and the fashionable shore stops en route. On its fatal trip, the train carried about 1,000 people, far more than its usual complement of passengers.

While it had run regularly during the wildest strike touched off by the Chicago walkout of switchmen, many commuters who ordinarily use the New Jersey Central railroad piled aboard the train when it left Jersey City just after 5 p.m. yesterday.

Little more than half an hour later, the train was a crumpled mass of steel and human bodies, some of the cars piled up virtually in the streets of Woodbridge at the bottom of a muddy 35-foot deep embankment. Most of the dead were taken from the third car of the train. Eyewitnesses described the condition of this coach as "scorched, blackened and banana-shaped." Stories of Horror This tragedy-laden death car was fused virtually half-way with the fourth. Survivors from both told almost incredible stories of horror as rescue work continued throughout the night, under the eerie glare of floodlights and acetylene torches, and into the day. Before rescue crews estimated that eight torn and mangled bodies still were to be removed, Mayor August Greiner of Woodbridge said: "We think there are between six and ten bodies still in there. We have tried to figure out the number of people who were in that car and several are still to be accounted for."

During the night, the third car slithered away from its connections and crashed to the bottom of the embankment. Soldiers and national guardsmen with bayonets drawn had forced spectators some distance away from the crash scene and no onlookers were injured. Rescue parties themselves scrambled to safety in the nick of time.

Team Emergency Margues
Grief-stricken relatives toured emergency morgues to learn if bodies hastily sheathed in paper were those of loved ones. A steady procession of people filed in and out of the Woodbridge Methodist church which was converted into an information center for news of dead and injured.

Anthony Cadek, a freeholder of Middlesex county in which the wreck occurred, charged "criminal negligence" in construction of the temporary overpass, which was opened to service less than five hours before the train came through. He accused two New Jersey state agencies and said: "There was lack of supervision in the shoring up of the overpass. It was a hurry-up job and the freeway and turnpike agencies should have exercised more supervision of the job which was rushed at a terrific pace."

Formal Complaint
Cadek said he had filed a formal complaint on January 19 with Magistrate Andrew D. Desmond in Woodbridge and said that a hearing on the construction work was scheduled to take place last night, a few hours after the accident occurred. Pennsylvania railway officials had set a maximum speed of 25 miles an hour for crossing the trestle. Survivors said the train was running at a "good clip" when the accident occurred. Engineer Fitzsimmons, a PRR veteran, was quoted as saying he hit the trestle at 25 MPH and indicated that the overcrowded coaches might have played a role in the tragedy.

MADONNA SODALITY
Madonna Sodality will gather Thursday, February 8, at 7:30 p. m. in Madonna school for the monthly meeting. Archeologically, the history of North America goes back to 450 A.D.

Shenango-Taylor P.T.A. Plans Event

Members of the Shenango-Taylor Parent-Teachers' association will meet Thursday evening in the school building at 8 o'clock. Founder's Day will be celebrated during the evening's program, with proceeds from the cake sale to go to the Founder's Day fund. A door prize will be awarded and a prize given to the room with the most parents in attendance. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Miles, Mrs. Jacobs and Mrs. Berkley. Let's Look At The A-Bomb, Can We Survive Attack?

(Second of a series)

In the excitement over the development of the atomic bomb, the progress in peace time advancement in atomic energy has escaped the attention of all too many Americans.

Without much fanfare or publicity the nuclear physicists have advanced medicine and surgery two decades with the discoveries and use of isotopes. Industry is aided by them, agriculture and botany as well.

Yet without the research for the atomic bomb perhaps the use of atomic energy in the peace time fields might have lagged for years.

Both peace time and war time advancement come from the same source, atomic power and atomic energy is not new. The power has been in the rocks for millions of years. It is only comparatively recently that it has been unlocked and harnessed—at least in part.

The atomic scale has been known to scientists for years. Starting with the lightest element, hydrogen, the elements ran up in weight to a total of 92 with many of them in the late forties and mid fifties not yet found but known to be. Since the atom was split and atomic energy research was developed six more elements have been added and these to a scale that was said to be limited to 92. The genius of modern nuclear physicists may yet add to the 98.

Comes From Uranium

The materials for the atomic bomb and for much of the atomic energy work in peacetime pursuits comes from uranium, a radioactive element. In every deposit of uranium is found uranium 235 and uranium 238, the U 235 being the explosive type.

Scientists have always known that if energy could be released from the atom, tremendous energy would come from a small mass. This secret the nuclear scientists found and the atomic bomb was the result.

No more deadly engine of destruction has ever been devised by mankind. No one has yet measured the decibels of sound registered by an atomic explosion of an atom bomb, but the devastation is all too apparent. The modern atomic bomb will level an area a mile in diameter. The heat it generates runs into thousands of degrees Fahrenheit and the rush of air it produces is many times as terrific as the worst hurricane upon record. In addition it throws out certain atomic rays, alpha rays, beta rays, gamma rays, x-rays and neutrons. Hence the damage is three fold but the damage caused by the rays has been over emphasized to the point of hysteria.

First the point of explosion. There are three possibilities. The air explosion, the ground explosion and the water explosion. Experience has shown that an atomic bomb exploded in the air does much more damage than one set off at ground level. The reason for this is apparent. Exploding it at ground level would not give the blast as much chance

The gamma rays are longer and travel up to about three quarters of a mile from ground zero. They are dangerous but, here again, if you were close enough to get a lethal dose of gamma rays you would be right in the area of devastation. The same can be said of the x-rays and the neutrons.

But even if you did get a dose of atomic rays you would not necessarily die. The measure of the amount of rays entering the body is measured by Roentgens or "R's". Ten or 15 "R's" would mean little inconvenience. Fifty would probably make you ill for a time but you would recover completely. Two hundred or 250 might be a deadly dose for a person with low tolerance to the effect of rays. Six hundred "R's" would probably be fatal but again, remember if you're that close to the bomb explosion you are a "dead duck" anyway.

Heat and Shock

Hence the real worry about an atomic bomb explosion is the heat and shock. But again you can beat them with reasonable precaution and by keeping your head.

We have assumed the "A" bomb has fallen upon New Castle. But before it has fallen the alert has sounded many minutes before.

What to do?

Duck. But quick.

If you are in your own home, head for the cellar and sit up against the wall. The latter to prevent so far as possible falling debris from hitting you.

If you have no cellar get under a heavy table and cover up exposed parts of your body. This of course in areas out beyond the immediate devastation. To repeat, if you are in the immediate area near ground zero in an ordinary house your chances are slim.

But half a mile from ground zero your chances of survival in a cellar are good. The blast or heat might knock the house off but the blast does not go into the ground in any appreciable force. The earth and the walls would stop most of the rays.

All the loose talk about the air being poisoned for a long time after the explosion is sheer nonsense. If you survived the blast and heat you could walk out of your cellar within ten minutes and be safe. One exception to this might be where a ground level explosion has been set off in which case there would be a small amount of radioactive ash for some area on the ground. But ground explosions waste the effect of the bombs and "A" bombs cost fortunes to produce.

Tomorrow we will discuss ordinary protective measures against the bomb under other circumstances.

Edward Lyles Jr. Serving In Korea

Private First Class Edward Lyles Jr., husband of Mrs. Doris Mae Lyles of 1127 Seloto street, New Castle, is now serving with the 580th Quartermaster Salvage company of the X Corps in Korea.

The former debit manager for a New Castle insurance firm joined the reserves in 1946 and was called to active duty in October, 1950.

Highest Point In New Castle

Throughout this land of ours, Chambers of Commerce flood the world with propaganda that they have the highest mountain in the land or the lowest valley. Others have the most beautiful dairy land or the warmest sun.

Mt. Whitney in California's Sierra Nevada Mountains with its altitude of 14,501 feet, is the highest point in the United States. Not 80 miles away is the lowest point in the U. S., Death Valley which is 276 feet below sea level.

Here in New Castle, one of the high points is at the Stand-pipe in the Croton district with a height of 1,102 feet and a few blocks away, at the corner of Mill and Washington streets, it is 880 feet above sea level.

Pomona Grange Will Meet At New Bedford

New Bedford grange will entertain the Lawrence county Pomona grange in the Hopewell Presbyterian church, New Bedford, on Saturday, February 10.

The morning session will open at 10:30 o'clock with the Pomona master, Dale Currie, presiding. Following the business meeting, reports from the 1951 grange leadership school at Millersville, Pa., will be given. Past state master W. S. Fullerton will bring some highlights from the recent meeting of national grange. The ladies of New Bedford grange will serve the noon day luncheon.

Reconvening at 1:30 p. m., the meeting will be addressed by Eben L. Reid, representing the Greater New Castle Association, who will speak on cooperation between city and county for a bigger and better New Castle. Melvin Kauffman from Mahoning grange will entertain with a vocal solo.

To Discuss China

The main address of the afternoon will be given by Dr. J. W. Creighton, professor of history at Westminster college, New Wilmington. His subject will be "China and the U. N." Having spent some time in China, his talk should be inspiring and educational in revealing the life of the Chinese people and their country. Recently he visited the sessions of the United Nations and will tell something of the manner in which the life and history of our nation and the world is being formed. Dr. Creighton comes well recommended as an authoritative speaker and in view of present day situations his message should be vital and highly informative.

Each year the Pomona grange honors the outstanding boy and girl in the field of agriculture and home economics. This year four young people, two boys and two girls, from vocational schools and 4-H clubs of the county, will be presented with fitting awards by Pomona Master Currie.

For several years, Sears Roebuck company foundation has sponsored community service projects through the granges of the nation. A film showing some of the recent completed projects of this community service project will be shown and explained at the meeting. Certificates for the completion of the 1950 state grange projects will be awarded to the several granges qualifying in the work.

Plan Showdown On Statehood For Hawaii And Alaska

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The Senate Interior Committee decided Tuesday to have a showdown Feb. 20 on whether to recommend passage of Hawaiian and Alaskan Statehood bills without further hearings.

Chairman O'Mahoney (D) Wyo., announced following a committee meeting today that the group will vote Feb. 20 on whether to recommend the Statehood bills immediately or conduct new hearings.

Extensive hearings were held last year. O'Mahoney wants to avoid bringing witnesses back again from Alaska and to make use of the testimony already available. At the same time, O'Mahoney disclosed that Alaska Republicans have protested against the proposed procedure of conducting a constitutional convention.

O'Mahoney made public a telegram from Albert White, general counsel for the Alaska Republican party protesting the appointment without regard to political affiliation of delegates. White said:

"This appears to be an effort to stack the convention in favor of the third judicial division (Anchorage), most of the population of which are newcomers and most of whom are transient and whose votes consistently Democratic."

O'Mahoney said the provision was in the bill considered last year and was unchanged. He declared that the convention will "be a publicity—a choice by all the people—and should be above all partisanship."

MONT ALTO PROJECT

HARRISBURG — The General State Authority today called for bids a second time on Wednesday, Feb. 21, for the construction of an apartment building for personnel at Mont Alto State Tuberculosis Sanatorium. Bids on the project were taken originally in 1950 and total $299,037. These were rejected because they exceeded the amount allocated for the work.

Social Security Manager Milbouer Explains Benefits

Have you worked as much as a year and a half since 1937 on jobs that were covered by Social Security?

Are you 65 years old? If you answer to both these questions is yes, you may be losing money. Because if you are no longer working, or even if you are earning no more than $50 a month in "covered" work, you might be receiving the monthly Government insurance checks, right now.

According to Myron Milbouer, manager of the New Castle Social Security office, an estimated 40 per cent of persons in this area made eligible by the 1950 liberalizing amendments to the Social Security law have not yet filed application with his office.

It is still not too late to avoid loss of benefits if you file your claim now. The local manager stated. The law allows retroactive payments that can go back as much before the formal application is made. But any delay beyond March might result in a loss of payments for earlier months even though you might have been otherwise eligible.

Veterans' Council Will Reorganize

Plans for reorganization of the New Castle Veterans' Council were started Monday evening when the group met in the Officers Reserve Association meeting rooms, East Washington street.

Commander Edward A. DeCarbo presided. The council is organizing into a county council, rather than being just a local council. Members of all posts within the county are invited to attend a special meeting scheduled for March 5 at 9 p. m. in the Legion Home.

A report was given by George Hunt of the VFW that a banquet will be sponsored by the council during the latter part of August and will be held in a local dining room. Veterans are invited to attend.

George Hunt was also appointed as chairman of the publicity committee to protest against the moving of the Deshon Veterans hospital from this area. Don Crowl and Patric Cosgrove will assist him. The publicity will be held through radio and newspaper.

The public is given a plea to write their congressman and senators protesting the hospital intended move.

ASK EXEMPTION
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Senators from 13 cotton states appealed to President Truman on Tuesday to exempt raw cotton from ceiling prices.

The senatorial group, which included 16 senators, asked the president to control cotton prices only by imposition of price ceilings on the manufactured level.

The group asked the president to follow the pattern used during the last war.

Sweden Accepts Place On U.N. Group To Seek Peace Plan

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCES, N. Y., Feb. 7.—Sweden on Tuesday accepted a bid from UN Assembly President Nasrollah Entezam to serve on the three-man "good offices" committee to attempt peace negotiations with Red China.

Sven Grafstrom, Swedish delegate to UN, took the post originally offered to India's Sir Benegal Rau. The Indian delegate declined to serve on the ground that the assembly's indictment of the Peiping regime as an aggressor barred further peace moves.

The remaining post on the peace trio is being held vacant for Canadian Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson. Other candidates are Lebanon, Pakistan, Israel and Egypt.

In the meantime, the Soviet bloc instituted a boycott against Secretary General Trygve Lie, refusing to recognize him as head of the world organization.

FALLS, CUTS NOSE

Victor Rineman fell and sustained a laceration of his nose at the post office yesterday. Police took him to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment.

City Hall News Briefs

Examiner Saddle of the State Highway, bureau of motor vehicles, today conducted hearings in city hall. They involved accidents, speeding and other motor violations.

Seventeen permits to transport rubbish, at a cost of $1 each, have been issued by the city health bureau.

Contagion is lacking in the city at present, according to a report at the city health bureau.

Police Chief Esposito and members of Farrell council on Tuesday inspected New Castle's modern jail. Farrell plans to build a new jail.

Richard I. Davis, head of the city's civil defense, is arranging a list of air raid wardens, auxiliary police and firemen. A whistle is being installed on the New Castle Chemical company. Practice raid days will be Saturday and Sunday.

Daniel Woolcock, assistant engineer for the city, is preparing plans for the new streets building which will be erected at Shephard and Bridge streets this year. The city has sold the Taylor street structure which was used for equipment storage.

First reports will be received by the City Earned Income Tax bureau concerning the Amusement tax, February 15. The Amusement tax became effective January 20.

Chairs which recently were purchased from the Castle Stationery have not yet been delivered to city hall. They will be placed in council chambers, for officials and persons who has business to transact with officials.

At various times during each month J. K. Heess makes an inspection of all drinking and eating places, and soda water fountains. When not so engaged he examines milk sold in the city.

Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna today warned businessmen to not carry large amounts of money on their person unless they are accompanied by other persons, whose presence will help to minimize possible holdups. Saturday night a South Side businessman was robbed of $1100 at his front doorstep. His assailants have not been found.

One of the earliest to arrive every morning at city hall is City Treasurer Bernard N. Hanlon. He usually reports for duty at 7:30 a.m. Mr. Hanlon made a good record in collecting taxes during 1950, about 97 percent having been collected.

Elwood City Will Observe Day Of Prayer

Residents of Elwood City and the surrounding community will gather in First Christian church, Elwood City, on Friday, February 9, at 1:30 p.m. for a World Day of Prayer service.

Miss Evelyn Butler, a missionary who recently returned from India, will speak and show pictures of her work there. Elwood City United Council of Church Women has arranged the day's program. New officers of that organization follow: president, Mrs. Albert Gardner; first vice-president, Mrs. Henry Wiley; second vice-president, Mrs. Clarence Hollerman; and secretary, Mrs. Charles Adams.

Forty And Eight Sends Protest On Deshon Proposal

At the monthly meeting of Lawrence County Vulture No. 81, La Societe des Hommes et Chevaux, held in the Legion Home, with Chef de Gare Harvey Bintrim presiding, a resolution was adopted, protesting the closing of a portion of Deshon hospital as proposed by the Veterans Administration.

It is contended that the proposed closing of a portion of the hospital will work a hardship on many veterans in this district. Attorney Joseph Solomon was named to draft a resolution, which will be sent to Congressman Graham, Senator Martin and President Truman.

Pa Newc Observes

accumulation of ice near the curb. The work freed the street of the mounds letting the water flow more freely as it came from the melting ice. The above freezing temperature on Tuesday loosened considerable ice along the streets and sidewalks.

State Highway department expected to have road grading machinery on the highways today to knock off the accumulation of ice which has been making driving difficult. The weather moderated enough during the night to make the ice lose enough to move today.

Workmen have begun their task of dismantling one of the older Pearson street residences near East Washington street, it is noted by Pa Newc. The two story house is possibly more than 75 years old and at one time was a one story bungalow, being enlarged into a two story affair, it is noted in the rafters. The project will open way for future expansion of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, which is greatly in need of more Sunday school room.

Some very discourteous motorists are to be found hereabouts. Yesterday and this morning, many motorists were noted traveling along at a high rate of speed, showering sidewalk pedestrians with slush and dirty water. Seemingly some folks, when they get behind the wheel of a car, think there is no one else in the world but them.

Pennsylvania Highway Detour Bulletin for the period ending March 2, shows no change from the preceding month, a perusal of the bulletin just issued shows. Highway crews are lucky enough to keep the roads passable this winter, let alone get out and work on them. Little change can be expected before spring arrives for a certainty. The bulletin is posted in the lobby of The News, the Motor Club, and other strategic spots in the city.

Residents, who live on side streets off Highland avenue, were grateful to the street department for sending the road scraper to that district yesterday afternoon, and leveling off the huge hump of snow and ice which had accumulated in the center of the street. Folks coming out onto Highland avenue have had a difficult time the past week, getting over the hump.

Various non-profit charity and religious organizations were receiving bushels of surplus apples on Tuesday it was noted by Pa Newc. The county truck was being used in dispensing the fruit which was sent here by the Federal government for distribution.

Fast melting snow was the cause of much distress on the part of pedestrians on Tuesday Pa Newc noticed. Large dirty puddles of water filled the traffic lanes and thoughtless motorists plowed through these puddles, throwing water and slush over the sidewalks, splattering pedestrians.

Wild geese are making their appearance in this territory it has been reported. Miss Melvina Tubbs, 15 Round street, who was enroute to work one morning this week, discovered four of the birds on Round street. They were making quite a noise Miss Tubbs stated.

Court House lawn has become a playmate for youngsters, who have been using the slope for sliding and sledding. Much damage can be done to the sod underneath if the practice is kept up too long. The practice is a dangerous one as youngsters can easily roll out onto busy Washington street.

Oak Grove To Have Prayer Day Service

Plans have been completed for a World Day of Prayer program in Oak Grove United Presbyterian church. The service will be conducted Friday, February 9, at 8 p.m.

Verne Tieche Jr. Dies At Sandusky

Word has been received in this city of the death of Verne Tieche, Jr., of 1223 Hayes avenue, Sandusky, Ohio, who died suddenly of a heart attack on Tuesday evening. He had suffered with a heart condition over the past number of years.

Mr. Tieche was a son of Mrs. Ellen Farrell Tieche and the late Vern C. Tieche, the latter who died 11 months ago at Sandusky. Mr. Tieche was well known in Sandusky as a jeweler. His parents, who were former residents of New Castle, were widely known in this district.

In addition to his widow, who survives, he leaves a son, Jeffrey; his mother, of Sandusky; and a sister, Mrs. Marjory Miller, of Norwalk, O. Sam Tieche, an uncle, two aunts, Mrs. Frank Nessel and Mrs. Albert Deiger, and several cousins of this city, also survive.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete, but services and burial will take place at Sandusky.

Sextet Will Sing At Service Tonight

The vocal sextet from the First Pentecostal church will be heard at Sampson Street Alliance church during the revival services in progress there this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The campaign opened Tuesday evening with Rev. John P. Manieri of Dover, N.J., and will continue through February 18, excepting Monday. This evening Rev. Manieri has chosen to speak on the subject "God Has a Complaint Against a Good Church." The song service will be directed by Joseph Proctor, with the pastor, Rev. Lester Schiele, chairman of the meeting.

Long-term Investment that pays daily dividends

THESE are days when thoughtful people turn their minds to the durability of things they purchase—and that makes good sense at any time.

But you may have noticed that it's a rare occasion when doing your duty turns out to be the best way to satisfy your heart's desire.

That's what's so marvelous about this '51 Buick.

If you picked a car just for the lift it gives you—your pride in its power and pace—or its generous comfort and room—you couldn't make a better choice.

But make note of this:

That gleaming new push-bar forefront, which greets your eye with flashing beauty, contains 25 grille bars made of stamped steel, individually mounted to "give" and come back unharmed. Combined with a massive, wrap-around bumper, fortified by two stalwart "bumper bombs" and two added uprights, it gives unsurpassed protection.

The springs of stout spiraled steel on all four wheels let your wheels dip and curtsy over uneven highways, while you ride level as a lance. But these springs also need no servicing, and breakage is virtually unknown.

Buick's great-powered engine is a Fireball, wondrously lively and eager at the mere touch of your toe—but it also wrings extra power from every drop of fuel, and has the mechanical perfection that comes only from years of experience with this basic design.

Dynaflow Drive gives every mile you drive effortless smoothness of control—but it also eliminates clutch repair bills, saves tires, puts less strain on the whole driving mechanism, from engine to differential.

The road-steady gait of a Buick gives you a sense of relaxed security—and is also evidence that you have a durable, deep-silled, X-braced frame beneath you.

However you check it, you'll discover this: The things that make you yearn for a Buick on first acquaintance, are the very same things that make Buick such a smart long-time buy.

Better make it a point to see your Buick dealer—soon.

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

No other car provides all this:

Marshall To Urge No Limit On Troops For Europe

By WILLIAM THEIS

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Defense Secretary Marshall will press Gen. Eisenhower's case for unrestricted shipment of troops to Europe next Tuesday—a case Congressional leaders believe today that "Ike" has already won.

Sen. Connally (D) Tax, foreign relations committee chairman, announced that Marshall will give the joint chiefs of staff and Secretary of State Acheson.

Connally and Sen. Russell (D) Ga., whose armed services committee is jointly handling the matter, are convinced that an affirmative declaration will emerge from the committee.

Strong Argument

Eisenhower's strong argument against writing in any ratio or ceiling had a telling effect in "scattering" the forces behind this idea, they believe.

The real fight in behalf of a limitation, supported by such powerful member as Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, will come when the resolution gets to the floor. Taft already has announced he will offer an amendment at that time if the committee doesn't include it. The outcome of this showdown, in a sense, will be a test of the political popularity of Eisenhower. Senators point out that "Ike" gave the Senators little detailed information but in effect asked them to go along with his approach on faith.

New Treaty Is Forecast With Franco Spain

By GEORGE DUNO

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Early negotiations were forecast for a new treaty of friendship, commerce and navigation between the United States and Franco Spain.

Such a pact, in the opinion of Washington observers, could be the first step toward inclusion of Spain in the North Atlantic Defense Alliance.

It was authoritatively reported that one of newly-appointed U. S. Ambassador Stanton Griffiths' first missions on arrival in Madrid will be the opening of conversations looking to a commerce treaty.

Griffiths, sworn in Monday, is leaving for his new post on February 10. He told newsmen:

"I have high hopes of getting a complete understanding with Generalissimo Franco's government."

Top officials recognized that it might take some time, perhaps a year, to get Spain into the North Atlantic alliance because of present antipathy on the part of some of her modern European neighbors—Britain and France included.

American military men make no bones about the desirability of bringing Spain into the European anti-Communist Defense Alliance. Franco has a fairly large standing army which needs only latest military equipment.

Spain further would be a highly strategic base in event of a European war.

New Zealand Is Much Interested In Pacific Alliance

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)

—New Zealand Prime Minister Sidney Holland said his country "is particularly interested" in establishment of a Pacific alliance against Communist expansion.

The prime minister added that he hopes to see State Department Advisor John Foster Dulles in New Zealand and "that an agreement will be reached between us."

Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines have taken the lead in urging formation of a Pacific alliance against Communist expansion.

The prime minister added that he hopes to see State Department Advisor John Foster Dulles in New Zealand and "that an agreement will be reached between us."

Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines have taken the lead in urging formation of a Pacific alliance along the lines of the North Atlantic Pact. The State department, has said Dulles' mission in the Far East is only to discuss a Japanese peace treaty.

Asked what nations should be included in the pact, Holland said only "You can't have a Pacific pact without the United States in it."

Holland made the statement after an hour-long conference with

Secretary of State Acheson. He was accompanied by New Zealand Ambassador Carl Berendsen.

The Vuelta Abajo section of Cuba is said to be the source of the finest tobacco leaf in the world.

Civil Defense Bill Delayed

Proposal Is Made For Mid-Summer Date For Primary

By ED HAUCK
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7 — Pennsylvania's Civil Defense package was sidetracked temporarily today in the House pending a meeting of legislative leaders with labor officials opposed to mandatory death penalties for convicted saboteurs. Opposition jelled last night when four top labor leaders scheduled a meeting tomorrow with legislative lieutenants of Gov. John S. Fine to discuss objections that the stiff penalty could be disastrous for workers inadvertently causing sabotage.

Scheduled to meet with legislative leaders, according to House Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews, are Pennsylvania Federation of Labor President James L. McDewitt and the PFL Secretary-Treasurer Earl Bohr; Lester Thomas, legislative representative of the United Mine Workers of America; and Charles Sluggins, of the Railroad Trainmen.

Will Recess To Monday
The general assembly will recess its work today until Monday after brief sessions in both houses. Last night, legislative embracing a model soldier ballot law and switching the fall primary date to mid-summer was set up for an informal airing today by election bureau officials and the co-sponsors, Republican Senators Albert R. Peckham, of Armstrong, and Murray B. Peeler, of Armstrong. June 19 was proposed for the primary but Peckham said July 24 was strongly recommended by many county officials. The legislation has been designed to allow thousands of Pennsylvanians in the armed forces to cast ballots this year as well as in 1952 when presidential balloting will highlight the political picture. The Senate also received a bill authorizing construction of a 250-mile-long turnpike along the northern tier of counties between Erie and Scranton.

Wounded GI's Are Rescued By Helicopters

(BULLETIN)
U. S. FIFTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Two American Helicopters braved enemy small arms fire today and rescued eight wounded GI's who had been surrounded by Chinese Red troops in a battle for a Korean hill.

Fifth Air Force pilots spotted dead and wounded on the hill late yesterday. The wounded soldiers signaled for help but darkness fell before Helicopters could arrive. At daybreak Wednesday, Capt. Daniel Miller, accompanied by army medical corpsmen, landed in a Helicopter on the height. They had to take cover while carrying wounded to the aircraft and Miller returned the enemy's fire with his .45 automatic.

They called for fighter planes which came over the scene and thereafter protected the remainder of the daring rescue. A second Helicopter, piloted by First Lt. Ernest Macquarrie, of Los Angeles, landed. Each Helicopter airlifted two of the wounded and both machines returned later to remove the other four wounded men.

Canes Lead

Dick Bricker took Barr's tip at mid-court, took one dribble and then fired a successful one-hander and Falls led 2-0. Bricker returned with two foul shots to increase the valley team advantage to 4-0. Latsko at 2:35 connected on both ends of two free throws and Boak dropped in a charity toss for a 4-3 count. Duane Ryan swished a left hand push shot and Latsko with exactly half the period completed tallied the first Newc field goal. He then repeated, and when fouled after his second field goal, tallied to hand the Canes an 8-6 edge at the period.

After Compton scored to open the second quarter Latsko and Palumbo combined for five points and the locals were in front 13-3. Coach Joe Hetra inserted sub Bill Blair into the lineup and he rallied the visitors for ten markers before Ray Latsko banged in a desperation heave at the halftime buzzer. Blair had rung up seven points in five minutes and shoved the Tigers ahead 18-13. Latsko's throw just beat the clock and the inter-

Games Friday

Mt. Jackson at Union.
Shenango at Bessemer.
East Brook at Wampum

Wampum, New Wilmington and East Brook notched wins in Section 23 games Tuesday night.

Wampum won its eighth straight league game as it downed Union 62-38 at Wampum, New Wilmington edged by Mt. Jackson 46-45 at Mt. Jackson, and East Brook downed Shenango 54-41 at East Brook.

Wampum had a tougher time than the score would indicate with Union. The Indians led only 35-32 with about one minute left in the third quarter and piled up their big margin in the final frame.

The first quarter of the game was nip-and-tuck with the Indians getting the lead four different times only to have the Scotties come back to tie it up each time.

Wampum started the second quarter with nine straight points—five of them by John Swoggers who just entered the game—to take a commanding 19-10 lead. At the end of the half it was Wampum 31, Union 19.

Union Comes Back

Union came back strong in the third quarter and gradually narrowed the gap, until near the end of the quarter Wampum lead by only a 35-32 margin.

It was the sharp shooting of John McMillin, who scored 15 points in the last quarter and a half of play, that shot Wampum away from the Scotties in the final stanza.

Pete Barber played well for Union, holding his own with Caesar Craine on the rebounds. A tight man-to-man defense played an important part in the Scotties' holding the Indians in tow for the first three quarters.

Sheller Scores

New Wilmington upset Mt. Jackson 46-45 on the Scotties' floor with the help of Bill Sheller's six points in the closing minutes of play.

The game was close from the opening whistle, with New Wilmington holding one point leads at the end of the first half and third quarter.

Bob McKinley was high man for the night with 19 points. East Brook clung to third place in the section race with a 54-41 win over Shad Patterson and Clyde Cummins—got an early lead and held it throughout the game.

In preliminary games the Wampum, East Brook and Mt. Jackson junior varsity teams won. Ralph Grinnen of Wampum scored 23 points.

Oakland Sportsmen To Meet Tonight

The yearly election of officers for the Oakland Sportsmen club will be held at the Edenburg club rooms at 8 o'clock tonight. It was announced today by President Frank Zajac.

All members are urged to attend this important meeting, and cast their ballots.

The Oakland club raised 100 pheasants last year and are going to raise 250 this year. Zajac announced that the club is holding about 70 hens and eight cocks from last year, to be turned loose this year. The hens are part of the club birds and the rest were brought from the Jack Gerson farm for winter keep. Andy Conti is the keeper.

The feeding of the game this year was led by Joe Ostrowski, sports group, and Jim Cale of the Senior group. The feeding was well done by the men, and President Zajac expressed his appreciation.

Franklin Defeats Washington, 38-36; Sharon, Butler Win

Benjamin Franklin junior high school upset the Section 16 dope bucket Tuesday afternoon by edging George Washington 38-36 at Franklin in an intra-city contest.

The Patriots shot off to a 4-4-5 first quarter lead against the favored Little Presidents and then staved off a last quarter Washington rally to win.

In that final quarter Joe Lane paced the Washington attack that netted 20 points. Roth scored four points for Franklin in the last few seconds of play after Washington tied the score at 34-34.

Bob Bleggi's work around the bankboards was one of the big factors in the Patriots' win.

Up at Sharon, the Little Tigers nipped Farrell 42-40 on a last minute field goal by Glenn Morris. The win gives Sharon a firm hold on first place in the league.

Butler junior high just barely edged the Union junior 35-23 at Union. The Little Scotties held a 16-15 lead as the third quarter ended, after trailing 9-4 at the end of the first quarter.

In a non-league game Mahoning bowed to Ellwood City 45-23. Anclone of Ellwood City led in scoring with 11 points. Sam Vastano led Mahoning with seven points.

Ambridge Bests Ellwood, 56-47

Third Quarter Attack Subdues Wolverines

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 7.—The third quarter hex again plagued Ellwood City, and the Wolves tumbled before Ambridge in the Lincoln high gym, last night 56-47.

Ellwood stepped in front early and maintained a six-point, 29-23 halftime advantage. The Bridgers swamped the locals with a 21-point third quarter assault, and continued the attack throughout the game in upsetting Ellwood.

The Big Bridger team tallied six more field goals than did Ellwood and he managed to hold even league position with New Castle. Both have won four and dropped five, while Ellwood has two and lost six.

Bessemer high school surprised New Brighton 45-40 Tuesday night at Bessemer in a non-league game.

The Cementers got off to an early lead but lost it in the third quarter when Phil DeArment was relegated to the bench because of four personal fouls.

When DeArment came back in the fourth quarter the Cementers picked up again and went on to win. Jim Gagliano kept the Cementers close to the visitors in that third frame with his fine shooting.

New Brighton was co-leader of Section IX, Class A, with Monaca before last night's games. New Brighton JV's won the preliminary game, 53-29.

Sell-Out Crowd Will See Titans Battle Duquesne Thursday Night

A sell-out crowd will witness a return match Thursday night between Westminster college and Duquesne university at the Farrell high school gym.

A victory for the Westminster Titans would give them their second win of the week over two of four opponents who tripped them in early season play. Monday night Westminster avenged a previous loss to the University of Pittsburgh with a convincing 91-67 victory over the Jungle Cats.

In a late December tussle between the Titans and the Dukes, the Duquesne quintet came through with a last-second field goal to defeat Westminster by a one-point margin. Except for the final minute of play, Westminster had led the contest all the way.

Both teams will enter the contest with a similar record. The Dukes have won 13 games while dropping five. Westminster also has 13 victories to its credit and has dropped four contests. The Titans have lost three straight to Villanova, Cincinnati and Loyola of Chicago. Cincinnati also handed the Dukes their first loss earlier in the season, and Long Island university swamped Duquesne, 84-52.

Westminster, in addition to its loss to Duquesne, has bowed to St. Bonaventure, St. Francis and the University of Pittsburgh.

The Dukes hold the edge in series play between the two teams. Of 23 games played in the series since 1921, Duquesne has won 14 while losing nine contests.

Joe Louis Meets Agramonte In Miami Tonight

Ex-Champion Heavy Favorite

MIAMI, Feb. 7. — (INS) — Ex-heavyweight champion Joe Louis, trained down to a trim 208 pounds, makes another whistlestop on the comeback trail tonight when he meets lightly regarded Emilio Agramonte in a scheduled 10-round bout at Miami Stadium.

The balding, 36-year-old Brown Bomber needs a decisive win over Agramonte—sometimes known as the "Cuban Canvas-Kisser"—and then must beat Andy Walker in San Francisco in two weeks before getting another crack at Ezzard Charles, the current heavyweight king.

Louis, ten pounds lighter than when Charles whipped him last September, is heavily favored to win by a knockout and admittedly is planning to try for a quick victory.

The bout is expected to attract 15,000 fans and a gross gate of $50,000. There will be no broadcast or telecast.

California Jockey Suffers Injury

ARCADIA, Cal., Feb. 7. — (INS) — Jockey Ray York was hospitalized today with a possible fractured collar bone suffered when he was spilled from his mount at the start of the sixth race at Santa Anita yesterday.

He was unseated from On The Spot and was picked up by the starter's crew.

LaMotta Starts Training Today

CHICAGO, Feb. 7. — (INS) — Mid-weight champion Jake LaMotta begins workouts in Chicago today for his title defense next Wednesday night against Ray Robinson, the welterweight king, in Chicago stadium.

Robinson, scheduled to arrive in Chicago today, was delayed, he reported, by the switchmen's strike which has hampered rail travel.

Consequently chairman Joseph Triner of the Illinois Athletic Commission put off for one day the pre-fight medical examination scheduled for today.

Barons Defeat Hornets, 4 To 1

(By International News Service)

Cleveland Coach Fred "Bun" Cook says the Pittsburgh Hornets are the team his Barons must beat in the American Hockey League playoffs next month, but the regular season series between the two clubs show a different story.

The Barons dumped the Hornets, 4-1, last night for their sixth victory over Pittsburgh in eight games. The Hornets have won one and tied the other.

Tonight Cleveland drops in on the Cincinnati Mohawks while Buffalo entertains Providence and Springfield plays host to Hershey.

Pittsburgh Signs Young First Sacker

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 7. — (INS) — The Pittsburgh Pirates today signed Tony Bartirome, 18-year-old first baseman from Pittsburgh, and assigned him to Bartlesville, Okla., of the Kansas-Oklahoma-Missouri league.

The young left-hander was the 1950 selection from Pittsburgh for the Hearst All-Star baseball game in New York.

BURTON WINS DECISION

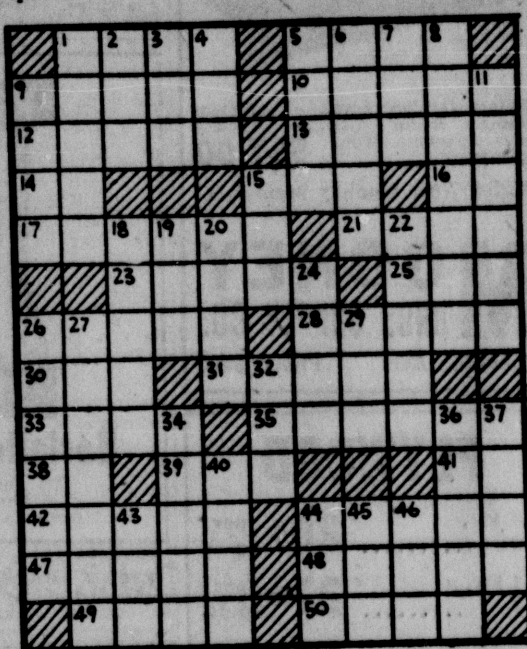

CHICAGO, Feb. 7. — (INS) — Gene Burton, New York welterweight and stalemate of welter king Ray Robinson, last night scored a split 10-round decision over Holly Mimms of Washington in Rainbo Arena, Chicago.

There were no knockdowns. Burton weighed 153, Mimms 154.

Ike W. Duffey, owner of the Tri-Cities Blackhawks in the National Basketball league, says he will move the club franchise to Pittsburgh for the 1951-52 season.

Apathy Marks Registration

Net Total in County Is Now Down 2154

Apparently there are a lot of voters who care little whether or not they are qualified to cast their ballots at election time.

Since the registration books were opened on December 8, following the general election in November, a grand total of 58 persons have registered. This is but a fraction of the number of young men and women have come to adulthood in that time.

Some weeks ago 3031 names were withdrawn from the registration lists due to non-voting in two years last past. Each cancellation notice carried a reinstatement card which needed only to be filled out and signed and mailed back.

Only 877 availed themselves of this easy way to retain their voting rights. Many of the number no doubt have died but most of them are disqualified as voters solely because of apathy.

As of Thursday noon the total number of registered voters in Lawrence county was 43,628. This is over 3000 less than were registered in 1940.
